

pense of ethical standards.

Mr Justice Li cited the case of a client who asked his lawyer for a breakdown of his bill. The itemised account included a charge for "recognising you in the street and crossing the busy road to talk to you to discuss your affairs, and recrossing the road after discovering it was not you".

The judge said courts in Hong

Sunk China Morning Post

quoting Hong Kong Chief Justice